

Welcome, dear guests!

For more than 100 years, the Homburger Hof has been an Apfelwein-pub and as such we would like to take it to the future. My team and I wish to experience the Frankfurt way of life with you by offering traditional cuisine and a large selection of Apfelwein-types. It is all about combining the well-proven old and the promising new. That is why our cuisine includes seasonal and regional products that simply taste great.

Should you have questions regarding allergens, we will be happy to help and prepare a dish according to your wishes.

I grew up living in Hattersheim. After my education as a hotel specialist, I gained lots of gastronomic experience in many places all over the world. After having fallen in love with Apfelwein and all that comes along, I started looking for my own gastronomic business. So here I am and together with my team I am looking forward to beautiful days and cosy evenings with you. Be our guest and enjoy the Bembelkultur in the middle of Eckenheim!

Welcome!

Andreas Kimmel and team

You probably have already noticed during your stay in Frankfurt: The way we speak here differs from what your dictionary might have told you about the German language. You will find us to be pretty straightforward and amiable at the same time. And: Sometimes even Germans have trouble understanding us.

So, for you to find your way through our menu and more, here are a few words and expressions you will want to understand.
